MINNIE CAINE WAS ASHORE.

The schooner Minnie E. Caine which arrived Thursday from Newcastle was ashore for five months on Smith's Island in Puget Sound some years ago. She was swept ashore in December, 1901, and was not floated until after five months hard work on the part of Captain Olson, her present master. He was formerly master of the schooner H. C. Wright and visited Honolulu in 1896.

SUMNER FLOTTED.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Quarter-master Humphreys has received a cablegram from Colonel Atwood, confirming the press dispatches about the transport Sumner running on a reef. He adds that the Sumner has been pulled off, but her hull was damaged to the extent that the pumps were unable to keep the water down. After steaming twenty-five miles to Mauban, she was beached on a mud bottom. She had a pilot aboard. The master of the Sumner thinks the damage is not serious.

A NEW SCHEME.

A new theatrical advertising dodge comes from Cleveland, where an actress claimed to have lost the usual display of diamonds. She had them in a little bag and left it on her dressing-room table. While she was out of the room two trained cats that were on the bill stole the bag and took it into their cage, where it was found.

HE DIED HARD.

"The ossified man passed in his checks last night," said the nurse lady "Poor fellow!" sighed the nurses wonder. "He must have died hard."—Chicago News.

RETURNED FROM KAHOO LAWE

LEHUA BROUGHT BACK MEMBERS OF PARTY THAT WENT UP ON BUSINESS TRIP THIS WEEK.

For the first time in months, the steamer Lehua touched at Kahoolawe. She stopped at that rocky place yesterday morning to take off a party of business men who had gone up earlier during the week on a business expedition.

The party left here on the steamer Maui last Tuesday night and were landed at Kahoolawe from that vessel. Those in the party were Robert Shingle Wilder Wight, C. C. Conrad, W. A. Bewick, George McLellan and Frank Halstead. All but Halstead and McLellan came to Honolulu this morning, the pair stopped at Lahaina.

Purser Birmingham of the Lehua reports rough weather and strong trades crossing the channel. The Lehua brought a small lot of freight. She arrived at 1:30 o'clock this morning from her regular run to Molokai, Maui and Lanai ports, in addition to touching at Kahoolawe.
